With little sympathy for the dying winter, spring flings its joyous dance signifying the coming of better days. Sun seems to be the main ingredient in the spring's magic. A touch of heat is cut added in for most of us, to just this—birds, flowers, bees, and warmer weather not far ahead.

Debt Reduction Campaign Will Not Be Dropped

Charging that his statement regarding the status of social credit made in Calgary last Sunday had been distorted so that his own sentiments were distorted, Premier Aberhart held a Strand theatre audience late evening that the response to his address had been prompt and encouraging. With this he couched an assurance that the fight for debt reduction was not ended with the recent court decision holding the legislation ultra vires of the province and that a new attack on high interest rates would be launched.

The Premier, who has been the cause of some consternation in the Progressive Bill Conference since it was started more than a year ago, was greeted by a capacity audience.

"I want to thank those individuals who have written to me," he said at Fort Edmonton regarding what he said last Sunday. "It would be impossible to hear from all in one week."

Bellis on liquor store shelves were shaken to the floor and broken in an Albian store. A number of men were arrested waiting for the proprietors in hopes of helping dispose of the liquor.

The shock was less severe in San Francisco, where the telephone company reported hundreds of calls by alarmed residents. It sometimes took 15 minutes to get through a call.

RESPONSE PLEASE

Many groups have no time yet to hold a meeting and from some parts of the province it is difficult to get them together, responded with the response. However, they were asked by the chairman of the campaign at Fort Edmonton described as "like water."

"It is the opinion of the people that the campaign will be successful," he said.

On the other hand, the campaign was to be suspended in San Francisco, where the telephone company reported hundreds of calls by alarmed residents. It sometimes took 15 minutes to get through a call.

VIENNA, March 8.—A mass meeting of 4,000 supporters of the restoration of the Habsburg dynasty in Austria was interrupted today when street bombs were tossed into the meeting place.

Numerous nobles of the old regime were among those who sought to attend the meeting, but their places and went on with the meeting. The Austrian Nazis were present, and the meeting was adjourned in favor of recalling the old dynasty, represented by young Archduke Otto.

POLITICAL OBSERVERS

The government permitted a monarchist mass meeting to be held within the regime of Chancellor Kurt von Schuschnigg while encouraging restoration propagandists to continue their efforts in favor of recalling the old dynasty, represented by young Archduke Otto.

NOVICE GUNNERS

TRY ASSASSINATE L.A. PROSECUTOR

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—An attempt to assassinate District Attorney Burton Fitts, prosecutor whose recent trial of the gangster Al Capone down struck, spurred an intensive manhunt here for "noice" gunners.

Fitts' elbow deflected from his heart as he drove alone from his ranch home near suburban Monrovia.

He had received scores of threatening letters, and the manhunt, which began recently, was voted recently against anti-robbers who strike the holderless aircraft plant at Santa Monica.

SUDSBURY RELIEF WORKERS STRIKE

SUDSBURY, Ont., March 8.—Seeking increase from 25 to 40 cents an hour for relief recipient labor, 45 Sudsbury relief workers went on strike yesterday, demanding that the provincial government declare its stand on their demands.

The consulate was established at Montreal but was established here at the end of the war. It had been transferred here from Montreal. He had a long distinguished career in the diplomatic service.

Surviving are his widow and two sons, both of whom are married. Morris and who now are in Germany. Gauthier in the diplomatic service.

The body will be taken to Montreal this afternoon and funeral services will be held there.

SIR OTTO NAMED

BASEL, Switzerland, March 8.—Sir Otto Niemeyer to be named president of the Bank of International Settlements today. He had been a Hertha member of the board since 1932.

SAN FRANCISCO BAY REGION IS GIVEN SHAKING

SHARP QUAKE STIRS UP EARLY MORNING RUMORS OF MARTINEZ

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—Residents of San Francisco Bay region were shaken from sleep by an earthquake at 2:22 a.m. today, which knocked articles from shelves in East Bay cities.

Police in Albany and in Martinez said the movement there was the sharpest they had felt since the 1906 San Francisco quake. The quake was heard in the East Bay area.

Martinez reported the shaking "like water," according to the chief of police there.

Thrusts were awakened by the sharp movement, and many rushed to the window at Fort Funston described as "like water."

Shocks were less severe in San Francisco, where the telephone company reported hundreds of calls by alarmed residents. It sometimes took 15 minutes to get through a call.

HOUSE ASSAULTS ITALY SAVAGERY NECUS REPRISAL

LONDON, March 8.—Members of the House of Commons today assailed the "savagery" with which Italian troops in Africa natives carried out their orders to massacre the population to sustain their rule in Abyssinia.

PREMIER WILL CARRY U.S. VIEWS TO LONDON

KING, ROOSEVELT DINE AND CONFER UNTIL LATE HOUR

EDMONTON'S 'MATT' BERRY GIVEN HONOR

stating and developing copper claims.

Said that time, many of his flights, particularly those in the past year, have made aviation his sole means of travel.

BORN ON FARM

Born on a farm west of Ottawa on June 19, 1888, Bill Berry was educated at the University of Alberta and his school in Ottawa.

He has had his first airplane in a military camp in Ontario since 1911. It was an old Wright machine with which a pilot was barbecuing, and the pilot, who was Matt's eye, for he rubbed out some bullet holes on the tailplane to make it look like a biplane.

Recalling the first flight he witnessed, Matt said: "I was up to 200 feet. Any way, he took it up over the trees tops and down again. We thought it was marvelous."

At the outbreak of the war, Matt enlisted in the Royal Flying Corps in the 30th Wellington Flight and went overseas with the R.F.C. batched with the 10th Battalion, R.A.F., as a flying officer.

WAS RANCHER, TOO

In England he was seconded from the infantry to the Royal Flying Corps and became a flying instructor to 1918, to be made instructor to the R.F.C. to the Royal Flying Corps.

Following the war he spent the year 1919 in Canada with the Settlement Board in Ottawa. The next four years he went ranching in the Blindman Valley, near Rimbey, Alta.

Returning to Ottawa, he entered politics and became a member of the Liberal party in 1924, to take up commercial flying when he joined N.A.M.E.

He has been a member of the company for five years, in northern Ontario and Manitoba, the Hudson's Bay Company, and in the Bakers Lake north of Saskatchewan and Alberta and the Coppermine.

ONCE IN CRASH

In the last two weeks he worked for Western Canada Airways, but left with W. Leigh Brinell, when the company became the Mackenzie Air Service.

On May 29, 1934, he was taking Mackenzie Air Service Fokker F-14, a huge, 12-passenger twin-engine plane, to Washington for a test flight at the Farnsworth Field, where he had been flying for 10 months.

From about 75 feet up and burst into flames.

One man was killed in the crash and Matt and Capt. J. H. Bell, airframe manager, were pulled free by W. Leigh Brinell.

Berry suffered a broken back, a broken hand and dislocated ankle, foot and toe, and had 150 burns. He spent 40 days in hospital and several months convalescing.

In January, 1935, he went to Camp Borden, training school for the Royal Canadian Air Force, where he graduated with honors, a course in instrument flying and radio communications.

CANADIAN AIRWAYS

In March of that year he joined Canadian Airways and has been with the company ever since.

Among his notable achievements in 1936, for which he was awarded the Order of the British Empire, was his location and rescue of Flight Lieutenant Sheldon Coleman and Leading Aircraftwoman G. E. M. of the R.C.A.F., who had been lost for 20 days in the barren lands of the Yukon.

In December last year, he flew to Hornaday river, on the Arctic coast, at a time when day was a short seven hours. He had to fly 100 miles to a 50-mile Arctic base to land at the isolated Northern Catholic mission of St. Paul. He and his wife, Failais and his party, whose food supplies had run short to the point where they were reduced to eating what were broken over work and underfeeding.

He had to fly on a large part of this trip and landed his party back at Atlinavik with little more than a few drops of gasoline left in his tanks.

QUALIFICATIONS

Qualifications governing the McLean trophy are that continuous performance throughout the year should receive greater consideration than the number of flights.

It is also specified that operations involving the avoidance of the cause of aviation accidents, recognition of over exploits of difficult or dangerous flights, and services no less than the categories of the trophy itself, will receive special consideration.

The award ceremony will be presided over by J. A. Wilson, controller of civil aviation, Mr. W. H. Air Vice Marshal W. A. Bishop, Warrant Officer A. T. Cowley and Squadron Leader C. G. R. G. of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

This is the fifth time that the trophy has been awarded to an Edmontonian, the previous winners being C. H. "Punch" Dickens, D.F.C., O.B.E., Major G. P. D. G.R.E., Capt. Maurice Burridge and Walter E. Gilliland.

WASHINGTON, March 8—When the imperial conference convenes in London next May Premier William Lyon Mackenzie King will be in the city before the statesmen of Great Britain, and the other dominions. Prime Minister Baldwin urged London voters to support Sir Harold Wilson's Labour government. Cabinet ministers took an active part in campaigning for candidates of the Labour party. The reason for that around Labour was that Labour was co-operating with Communists in the battle against fascism, and that promptly repudiated, realizing that Communist support is fatal to any political party in the United Kingdom.

WORLD PROBLEMS

"It is obvious," Mr. King said in brief to the Canadian delegation here yesterday, "that before I go to the imperial conference I must ascertain the views of the press concerning the problems confronting the world and with which the conference will have to do."

Recalling the first flight he witnessed, Matt said: "I was up to 200 feet. Any way, he took it up over the tree tops and down again. We thought it was marvelous."

At the outbreak of the war, Matt enlisted in the Royal Flying Corps in the 30th Wellington Flight and went overseas with the R.F.C. batched with the 10th Battalion, R.A.F., as a flying officer.

THREE FOR THREE

In talks between the President and Mr. King were informal. To the White House Friday afternoon, the two leaders met again in the Oval Office, and the President and the Prime Minister had a long conference.

"That was fair and I assure you, if I get enough of time I shall not let you down," Mr. King said.

"I would ask, however, when you say you are a Social Creditor, do you really tell to whom you belong?"

DOES IT GIVE UP?

"On the one hand I received some good letters. However, I make all kinds of people to make up the world."

Asked if he had any objection to Social Credit, Mr. King replied: "I told him I was not a Social Creditor, but I am a Social Creditor."

"Each of these telegrams were signed also with the names of the three men."

NOT A FAILURE

"Many of the opposition papers have said I am a failure," he said, according to my statement. May I say that I am definitely and clearly that Social Credit is a success?"

"I never said that Social Credit was a success," Mr. King retorted. "I introduced. I merely stated that we had been unable for several reasons to implement Social Credit."

"I am still prepared to press on if you so desire. I promised to let you know in 18 months whether Social Credit can be implemented or not."

"We are still prepared to press on if you so desire. I promised to let you know in 18 months whether Social Credit can be implemented or not."

"I have no particular desire for high office if I cannot help my constituents," he said. "I am willing to give over to anyone else whom you desire, in spite of what the People's Party says."

DEBATE ON BUDGET TO REACH TURNING POINT BY TUESDAY

LEWIS FIGHTS FOR CONTROL OF STEEL MEN

Employers Also Wage Stiff Battle and Grant Pay Increase

PITTSBURGH, March 8.—A fight to a snow down between John L. Lewis' "one big union" forces and employers' representatives for control of steel workers of the United States gained momentum today in the wake of a broadened wage increase of $1.50 a week to all mill steelmen.

Proponents of industrial unionism carried their demands to a half dozen mills town in the heart of the Pittsburgh area, while a company-sponsored group discussed ways and means to reduce what they termed "outside labor" interests.

400,000 WORKERS

The country's 300,000 steel workers, largest of the industry's history, now employed 48 hours a week, were threatened, watching anxiously to see if the independent producers would accept the $1.50-a-week "dime-an-hour" boost for all mill hands.

The "compromising" is United States Steel's Carnegie-Illinois Corporation which employs 120,000 men and turns out 40 per cent of the country's steel. It announced Saturday night a 10-cent-an-hour pay increase for its 100,000 lowest paid workers boosting their pay to $5.80 a day had been extended to all workers of mill help effective March 16.

ALWAYS FOLLOWED

United States Steel is regarded by the steel workers as the belweather whose guidance is almost always followed—although it has not yet accepted the $1.50-a-week of the Lewis forces to deal for their members has not yet been accepted by any major independent producer.

This possibly will be because the steel workers organization committee, the committee for industrial organization's unit headed by Philip Murray, has not yet extended any request for formal recognition to other companies.

Need of Tolerance Stressed By Rabbi At Sunday Service

Philip Murray, spokesman of right, the steel workers said that the present disturbed state of the world was due to the lack of tolerance, petition and intolerance. Practice of brotherhood, he stressed, would avert a tone effect upon man kind.

THE WAYS OF PEACE

There was something symbolic of the safety of international good-will in Premier King's quiet announcement that he would drop in to see President Roosevelt during his trip to Washington. Sure, however, countrymen, when practiced between friendly nations, surpasses in value the refinements of the most skillful diplomatic technique. It has been tested by experience and glorified by success. Were Mussolini suddenly to visit Hitler, a child of apprehension would be sent straight through mankind.

Europe has been vainly trying to obtain security by enlisting its populous policies in the thin webs of inimicite treaties. At the same time, that is because of the presence of trusteeship, he rejoiced in an abiding through unenvied peace.

Diplomats the world over might do worse than take a lesson from the humely charitable co-operation with which Canada and the United States transact their business.

A "GINGER GROUP"?

Many of the Social Credit members are said to have decided among themselves that before the session ends something will have to be done to avert the disappointment of their constituents over the collapse of the divisional plans.

The political call is for a "no". The sense of security rather than courage. If they decide, they were themselves deluded first. Anything of the nature of ridicule is peculiarly inappropriate. Thousands of people, many of them in the premised conditions, have staked their hopes on the promised dividends. They are part of their trouble. They are not to get the dividends. But to go home and tell them so, without at the same time giving them some word of encouragement, is a task from which sensitivity may well shrink.

Moreover, since these fasts are not likely to be accused of playing politics when they ask for something beyond a half admission of failure to take back to their electors. They know the hopes that are staked on the dividends and the power and how bitter will be the reaction if they evolve into a "ginger group"? There would be nothing remarkable in that.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

A murder was committed at Vermilion, the day Ernie was hanged at Fort Saskatchewan. Whether the Capital Alberta's capital punishment is a sufficient deterrent against murder, since murders are committed, capital punishment must be a failure, it argues.

Arguing along precisely the same line it could be said that when the practice of capital punishment is used, Peary still gets sick and die, despite doctors and hospitals and nurses and medical schools. Still, we do not hear anybody proposing to close the schools and stop the practice of medicine.

Capital punishment can prevent murder one hundred per cent, as doctors do not keep patients alive one hundred per cent. The question is whether murders are committed where capital punishment is the known penalty, but that they are frequent. More frequent than they would be if there were no capital punishment.

It is up to the "ants" to show that capital punishment increases murder, not the other way around. The number of murders is reduced on these points, most people will continue to think no person kills another to get himself hanged, or in some other country refrains from killing because he knows he would not be hanged.

COMPULSORY CODES

Coding in Alberta is to be shifted from a voluntary to a compulsory basis. Formerly, before a code was established something more than fifty per cent of the population in each occupation had to apply for such regulation. An amendment introduced in the legislature on Friday would empower the Minister to impose a compulsory trade, on recommendation of the Trade and Commerce Commission.

The initiative is to be taken from the parties concerned and vested in an irresponsible body, upon whose word the regulating code may be put into force. Unless the intention is to put every occupation under a code, that implies that those who have been picking and choosing the coding of some and the non-coding of others.

Such power to discriminate is a dangerous one to be placed in the hands of any authority.

particularly dangerous where the discriminating is to be done by a body whom the public cannot call to account. That opens the door to partisan shif, favoritism, and all the other evils of bureaucracy.

The first question the legislature should insist upon asking and having answered is whether any steps have been taken to find out whether the tradesmen and others liable to the imposition are favorable to this arbitrary kind of regulation, or would even tolerate it if it were attempted. Industry codes broke down because they were not acceptable. Is there any valid reason to suppose compulsion codes would meet any better fate?

THE BOND-HOLDER'S CHOICE

Comments on the Fortin $5 million loan over the next 30 years, the bond rate last year was "fictitious"; it should have been 78 mills—and by inference would be 78 this year without the debt-lowering scheme.

There is no chance of existing taxpayer grants, Mr. Fortin goes on, of administration or court's wisdom by that kind of argument. The $5.5 million rate last year wasn't and couldn't be half as "fictitious" as the notion that the $7.5 million rate could have been collected, or could be collected this or any other year.

The question of 7.43 per cent is something that can't happen. For one reason, the taxpayers couldn't pay such rate. And for a second, property isn't worth it. Attempts to collect a 7.5 million rate would result in just one thing—replies to taxpayers to pay and the confiscation of the bulk of the property still remaining in private hands.

If, rather than concede a reduction in interest rates, the bond-men would prefer to thus drive the city into a recession—remembering that what happened to happened to other provinces' bond-rate have been cut to 3 per cent—the taxpayers couldn't prevent them and probably would not try.

Council was not confronted with a choice of collecting a 78 per cent tax rate or accepting the $5.5 million rate. Council were the parties who had to face a choice—the cost of the extra interest rates or having these cut to 3 per cent through bankruptcy proceedings. That is why Mr. Fortin was sent along to put over his "fictitious" scheme.

PILGRIMAGE TO VIMY COMING SOON IN FILMS

Complete Record, With Sound, Nears Completion

At Ottawa

OTTAWA, Feb. 8.—Motion picture record of the Canadian Vimy pilgrimage will be last summer's unveiling to the Duke of Windsor of the great memorial to this nation's war dead, will be released in April.

The film, taken by cameramen of the Canadian government motion picture division, was originally spliced, but release of the picture was delayed by necessity for further editing to remove some of the sound of some of the voice and music track.

The picture probably will be released under the title "Safe To Valour" although a last-minute change is considered possible. Whether it will appear under auspices of the Canadian Legion, organization of Vimy veterans or some other body has not been determined finally.

The film contains a record of the Duke's personal contact between the Duke as King and the Canadian veterans who were his comrades in arms during the Great War.

Bishop Declares Many

Dire Poverty

OXFORD, March 8.—Birth control, early marriage and birth control are approved by Dr. E. W. Barnes, bishop of Birmingham, in a sermon at Oxford university. Contraceptive parents will not be shamed if they are unable to support the world if they are to be ill fed and ill housed, he declared.

Another prelate said: "It is discreditable to use as a nation that religious certainties have far been betrayed by the government."

England's worst stocks, he said, are in the hands of the rich. He described the worst stocks as those those most by grave inheritance.

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly
Popular Sport
Hariest Fans
Takes a Boost

BANFF, Alta., March 8—Skating proved beyond the last shadow of a doubt here today that it is now one of Canada's major winter sports. Between four and five thousand fans swarmed into Banff on Sunday from all sections of the West for the men's dominion ski jumping championships on magnificently snow-covered slopes. What is more, the enthusiasm of the fans was sufficient to get the great majority of them up early after 6 a.m. Sunday and send them on the long trek to the ski meets on Norquay. Over five hundred skiers boarded the special train which left Calgary at 7:30 a.m. Sunday for Banff, and nearly three hundred more followed on another train a couple hours later.

At the same time, fans from the Pacific Coast, the United States and all parts of Canada swelled the colorful crowd at Banff to perhaps the largest that this famous resort has ever drawn. The combination of ideal spring weather and the world's finest skiers in action was a sight to behold.

Your boozey or baseball fan will howl to high heaven over the least incoherence, but ski fans seem to be a harder breed. That Mount Norquay jump is four and a half miles up a steep mountain side from the Banff station. Every available bus, some two dozen, poured up and down the hillside in a constant stream, but they could not begin to handle the throng that jammed the road for over a mile awaiting transportation. There were no cars, no trucks, no busses, no planes, no trains, no boats. People piled in to the seats before it came to a stop. Even closed in baggage trucks were used and people packed into them tighter than any sardine was ever stowed away in a can. Yet, despite the use of every bus that could be commanded, hundreds of fans walked up the hill on foot.

From 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. a never ending stream of men and women poured up into the snow-filled valley at the foot of Mount Norquay. The restaurant, which had been set up near the huge jump, was cleaned out of food in one wild rush and simply couldn't get enough food to fill the demand.

It Outdid Wildest Dreams

The whole trouble was that even the most optimistic official never dreamed that this meet would have such a terrific drawing power. Plans were made for a peak of 2,000—and even that number was considered only a remote possibility. When the attendance soared to more than double this estimate, officials just had to do the best they could.

The remarkable thing about this crowd was that nearly 90 per cent of them were active skiers, dressed in colorful and picturesque gear. And that is just what Joseph had a cost of money, you should see a crowd like this.

The ski bodies sponsoring this dominion championship meet—the S.S.U. Skiers from the Canadian Rockies and the Calgary Ski Club—figured they would probably go in the hole to the extent of $500, but were prepared to do this to give skiing a boost in the West. By the time Sunday's crowd shelled out fifty cents per head the sponsoring clubs must have piled up a tidy surplus.

Bigger and Faster Still

The new jump on Norquay is a mighty impressive site. Imagine looking up at a mountain side towering thousands of feet above you. On the side of this mountain, about half way up, you see little black specks. A fine loud speaker system announces that these are from the top of the jump. Of course these start down the mountain side, shoot out into space, lands again on the sloping mountain side and flashes between cheering lines of spectators at express speed.

Sunday's longest jump was 288 feet made by Alf Ehren, United States champ from Salt Lake City. Adverse snow conditions slowed up the take-off greatly or many more feet would have been added to this mark.

However, plans are now under way to again remodel the jump this summer. By moving the take-off further up the side of the mountain, a more precipitous start can be obtained. The world-famous experts who have been using the Norquay jump during the past few days are confident that if these changes are made jumps of close to 300 feet can be made off it.

However, all competitors—Swiss, Austrian, Norwegian and Americans—were enthusiastic over Banff's natural winter sport facilities.

Although lightning passing through the air must undoubtedly make it very hot, this fact does not explain what makes the atmosphere light up, for no one has succeeded, by ordinary methods of heating, in rendering either oxygen or nitrogen luminous.
